

FINANCIAL LITERACY MONTH

Financial Education: Financial Literacy Month

April is Financial Literacy Month! As State Treasurer, I am passionate about financial education and committed to providing Iowans – kids, teens and adults – with unbiased financial information. To celebrate Financial Literacy Month, I have created a few resources to help teach fiscal responsibility.

For K-12th Graders:

If you're looking for an educational (but fun) way to occupy your children's time on rainy spring days, check out the financial education bingo cards. Cross off a square on the bingo card for each activity you complete. Play a fun game as you teach your children smart spending, saving, budgeting and other financial lessons.

For All Ages:

Have finance-related questions? Submit it using the Q&A form and I may answer it on April 29 over on my Twitter and Facebook pages. Follow @IowaTreasurer on both platforms so you don't miss the Q&A!
